GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN.

From Friday's Daily.

Mrs. David Matheson has received a stock of millinery, fancy goods, children's clothing, etc., which she will open out to-morrow at her store, adjoining the Park Hotel and the Vienna bakery. The stock is not large, but is very carefully selected, and will repay inspection by those who have need of any goods in her line.

While the Northern Pacific Refrigerator Car company were loading their cattle at the stock yards at Custer, on Saturday evening, a fireman on one of the engines carelessly blew the whistle, which immediately caused the cattle to stampede and make a complete wreck of the yards. The construction train was telegraphed for, which arrived about 4 p. m., with carpenters, etc., who very promptly began building new yards.

The Stock Drivers' Journal of Monday says there was a brisk movement in the market for good range cattle, and values were firm at former rates. Among the cattle were a few of very prime quality, which sold at good prices. Low grade stock sold rather slowly, but the general market was steady. Owing to the liberal supplies there was not very much competition, but the pens were all clear before the end. Sweet & True sold 250 head at $5.55.

Lord Castleton, of England, is at the Headquarters. He has been up at Helena inspecting some mining properties, among them the famous Drummond mine, in which he is a large stockholder. In company with Col. Needham, he will make this a starting point for the Big Horn mountains, whether he intends going on a hunting and fishing excursion.

Hon. O. U. Kellogg, member of the New York Legislature, and Moses Rogers, Esq., both from Cortland, N. Y., and breeders of thoroughbred cattle and horses, arrived on the train from the east last evening, in company with their old friend J. R. Hatfield, Vice-President of the Montana Lumber Co., who has been to St. Paul to accompany them to our "Magic City." It is their purpose to look up a stock ranch to breed thoroughbreds.

An important train load passed through here this morning. It was composed of six car loads of canned goods from Portland, Me., six of hardware from Chicago, two of stores from St. Louis, one of wagons from Racine, Wis., and one of Badford plows. One car was placarded "The first six car load shipment of hardware over the Northern Pacific by Hilliard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., of Chicago, to George T. Cane & Co., of Spokane Falls, W. T."

John A. Babcock, George Geer and Joseph Stager returned yesterday from a trip to the Clarke's Fork mining district. They return more convinced than ever of the great future ahead of this mining district. Prospecting and work is going on actively, and excellent showings are the result. Mr. Babcock has located a number of promising leads, which look well, and which he will develop next season. He speaks highly of some of the leads owned by John Tinkler in the New World mining district which Charley Zimmer is developing.

Hon. Martin Maginnis passed through here on last evening's west-bound express, on his way home from his various big medicine talks with the different tribes he visited. He has done a good summer's work as a member of the Indian commission, in negotiating with the various tribes for a reduction of their reservations. The result will be the opening up to settlement of several million acres in this territory. A dispatch from Regina to the Pioneer Press, referring to the departure of the commission from Fort Assiniboine, says: "Senator Ford and Delegate Maginnis, of the United States Indian commission, after a satisfactory council with the Gros Ventres and Assinaboines, left Fort Assiniboine with an escort for the British Northwest territory, and were received at the line by Major Shurtliff and a detachment of mounted police, treated with international courtesy, and escorted to the Canadian Pacific, and their labors being now over, will return to the States via Winnipeg."

From Saturday's Daily:

C. H. French and son, who have been in town the past few days, are going out to the Musseshell to look up a stock range. They will make Billings their headquarters.

Geo. B. Hulme returned from his New York trip yesterday evening. His trip seems to have agreed remarkably well with him, as he looks much better than when he left.

Capt. Weis, who has been spending a few days in town, left for Cheyenne yesterday. He accompanied Baron de Bonnains, of Stinking Water, to California last winter, and recently returned from there with a band of sheep which he has forwarded to Wyoming.

Real and personal estate has taken a decided drop in value in this town and vicinity, since the assessor commenced his unwelcome visits. The probability is that the depression in value will continue until the commissioners complete their labor of equalizing the assessment.

Owing to the fact that our types indulged in a slight "celebration" yesterday, this morning's issue is a little short of the average lay-out of original matter. We trust that our readers will be more than satisfied with the result. The old story, no doubt. The editor off to a howl, and the poor types have to take the blame.

C. H. Taylor, of St. Paul, Inspector of the St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co., spent to-day in town, looking over the various risks covered by his company. We understand that the result of the inspection was satisfactory. Mr. Taylor was here in 1882, when the town existed only on paper. He is much pleased with the substantial appearance of the town.

A short time since, a shower of half-grown frogs descended during a rain storm, at Alkali stage station, about fifteen miles from Billings. The residents of the neighborhood were very much alarmed on first seeing them, as the brands of liquor in that vicinity are far from good, and it was feared for a time that the frogs were but the baseless fabric of a vision caused by the low grade of tonics prevalent in that region.

From Monday's Daily:

Sam LeRoy is mentioned as a strong candidate for the mayoralty of Livingston, should that town be incorporated.

The office of the Post newspaper has been moved to C. W. Horst's building formerly occupied by Forster & Sons as a restaurant.

Washington Territory has commenced to ship her wheat to eastern markets. Seventeen car loads passed through Billings for the east on Saturday morning.

There are rumors in town to the effect that a newspaper is to be started, and christened the "Junction City News," published and edited by T. P. McElrath, of Miles City.

Montgomery Ward & Co. shipped twenty-three car loads of cattle for the eastern markets on Saturday evening, and Balch & Bacon will ship twenty-five car loads in the same direction to-day.

S. H. Erwin has returned from a business trip to Maiden, and the adjoining section of country. He had a highly successful trip, and, according to the Mineral Argus, took numerous orders among his Maiden friends.

The people of Deadwood, according to the Black Hills Times, have been agitated by a rumor that Hank Beaman had been shot, in Bozeman, by a man named Wither. There seems to have been absolutely no foundation for the rumor.

Referring to the artesian well at Miles City, the Yellowstone Journal says: The machinery was put in operation at the brewery yesterday evening, as an experiment. Everything pertaining thereto works like a charm, and consequently the investors in the same are happy.

W. L. Irish is in town on his home-ward trip. He has been spending a few weeks with former Chicago friends, on the Musseshell, where he has been enjoying the hunting and fishing that can be found there. Mr. Irish is half-persuaded to go into business in Billings, and as he is a gentleman of energy and intelligence, with good financial backing, we trust he will conclude to do so.

The remains of the Rev. Mr. Smith were re-interred in the Deadwood cemetery, in the presence of a large number of pioneers. He was killed, in company with Charles Mason, by the Indians, between Deadwood and Crook City in 1876. The location of his grave has always been uncertain, until the Rev. Mr. Cummings located it up, and had the remains buried with public ceremonies, to mark the respect entertained by the Deadwood people for the deceased.

From Tuesday's Daily:

The irrigation ditch was covered with ducks, mainly teal, this morning.

Whitely Bros' new livery stable is progressing rapidly, and will soon be ready for occupation.

Peter Larson's residence near the Congregational church is being pushed rapidly toward completion.

Excavation is going on in the rear of C. E. Barney's store for the extensive addition he proposes putting up.

We are pleased to see Judge Miller once more in town. He arrived from Livingston last evening, and will remain until the conclusion of the district court, at which court he is retained as counsel in a number of cases.

George Geer left this morning for Cooke City, where he will serve a number of subpoenas on witnesses in the case of the Territory vs. Crawford, which will be tried at the approaching session of the district court here.

From Wednesday's Daily:

J. J. Nickey, of the Park, is building a residence in the rear of that hotel, as he expects his wife out from Wisconsin soon.

The County Commissioners have caught up to the assessor, on their work of equalization, and are now waiting until the assessment is completed.

Mr. Vilas of Gardiner is in town to-day, buying goods from Marks and Soule for his store in that town. He says that trade continues good in Gardiner.

Major McElrath has severed his connection with the Miles City Press, which will in future be under the editorial and business management of Bert Potter.

E. H. Van Sinden returned yesterday evening from a hunting trip up the valley. He was highly successful, bagging a large number of ducks. The ducks found out to their cost what it means to have an active insurance man on their trail.

Mr. Nicholas Hutchison is erecting a neat little building next door to the Postoffice which he intends to occupy as a fruit stand and shooting gallery. As Hutchison is well known about town, we have no doubt that he will meet with that patronage which his enterprise merits.

Messrs. Woolfolk and Hersey report, good sales yesterday. Dr. Crocker, of that establishment, informs us that one large bill of yesterday's sales was to Cooke City parties. If we had a good wagon road established from here to Cooke City, Billings would secure a large amount of trade from that quarter.

The passenger rates of the Northern Pacific, from St. Paul, after Oct. 1st will be: To San Francisco and Portland, first class, $85. The rate has heretofore been $100 to Portland and $120 to San Francisco. The second class rate remains the same, $75 to San Francisco and $45 to Portland.

The region south of Livingston seems to abound in wonderful springs. The Enterprise describes a peculiar mineral curiosity brought into Livingston by Dan Edwards. It consists of the root of a small tree coated over with copper to the depth of several inches. It was taken from a spring in the upper part of Emigrant Gulch. The water of this spring are heavily impregnated with copper, any substance thrown into it being quickly stained green.

Rev. Father Prando arrived by this morning's train from the Crow agency at Stillwater, and will remain in town a few days. He has been spending a couple of months among the Crows, endeavoring to impart some religious instruction to that benighted tribe. His labors so far have been attended with success. Iron Bull and his squaw have been converted, baptized and married. He has come to Billings at the present time to meet Bishop Brondel, the head of the Catholic Church in Montana, and Father Cataldo, the Superior General of the Jesuits in the Northwest. These gentlemen are expected to arrive by this evening's train from the east, and to stay in town a few days. To-day Father Prando, accompanied by M. Flannigan, visited the different members of the Catholic Church in town, to obtain their ideas as to the feasibility of building a Catholic church in Billings, and report that the idea is well received. Should they meet with fair encouragement, a church will be built in this town. This church would probably prove to be the nucleus of a school and hospital. We are sure our citizens generally will be disposed to favor so laudable an undertaking.

From Thursday's Daily:

Frank Losekamp arrived from Livingston yesterday.

White Horse, a Crow Indian from the Little Horn, was taking in the sights to-day.

The express from the west is eight hours late to-day, and nobody seems to be startled, either.

Frank Olmstead, an old-time rustler of Billings, passed through town recently on his way to the Pacific Coast.

Miss Mary Rixon has been granted a second grade certificate, and is the first person in the county who has obtained that grade.

To-day James Comer celebrates the thirty-first anniversary of his birthday. We hope Jim will live to celebrate many more.

At the Park Hotel are C. S. Fell and wife, Maiden; B. F. Rogers and C. F. Curtis, Park City, and J. Y. Mills, Helena.

The members of the Billings Social Club meet to-morrow evening, at their club rooms, to make arrangements for a hop on the 12th inst.

Chas. Dowd left here yesterday with 6000 sheep, which he had purchased in Western Montana, for the McClinchey & Dowd sheep company, and was driving to his ranch near Miles City.

Among the guests registered at the Headquarters last evening and to-day are Thomas Roth, Dubuque, Iowa; J. D. Aspinall, Devils Lake; Caleb Rich, Major Reed, Louis Olson and Adolph Thisted.

Mr. Fisher, superintending operations at the artesian well during the absence of J. J. Alderson, expects to reach a depth of 400 feet this evening. The tubing is filled with water to within six feet of the top.

Among those registered at the Windsor are B. F. Lenard, St. Joseph, Mo.; W. T. Strait and C. Berthold, of Half-Breed Creek; J. M. Holt, of Miles City; E. A. Kyes, White Sulphur Springs, and J. Bailey, Bozeman.

Miss Camp has been engaged as assistant teacher in the public school. She has forty-five pupils under her charge, and uses the Congregational church as a temporary school house, until the new school building is completed.

We are pleased to learn that M. Rodemake has leased Kreiger's furniture store to Mr. Hopple, formerly of the Northern Pacific, and that Hopple will on Monday start a meat market in it. We have no doubt Mr. Hopple will make a success in his new venture.

Charley Fell, of the Maiden Argus is in town, having come down to meet Mrs. Fell, who arrived from Minneapolis on yesterday evening's train. Charley reports meeting with great encouragement in his journalistic venture, of which his many friends here will be glad to learn.

To-day three-freighters named Williams, Bullard and Sullivan were tried by the Probate Judge on a charge of stealing a watch from Mary West, a lady of the Fifteenth Amendment shade. The Judge held that on Mary's own testimony, the evidence did not look dark enough to detain the defendants and accordingly discharged them.

Paul McCormick, Junction's rustling representative, has been spending the day in town. Judge Platt and he have been comparing notes and find they come from the same locality in New York State. Hornsleville, where Hornsleville is the exact centre of the earth.

Yesterday an employee of the Northern Pacific Coal Company came in with some samples of coal, which they had just struck in one of their Bull Mountain mines. The coal found was a much superior quality to any heretofore found, and was reached at a depth of 90 feet below the surface. The samples brought in were sent to the chemist of the Northern Pacific for analysis.

W. J. Potter and troupe will give a performance to-morrow evening in the New Depot. He does so at the express request of a large number of our citizens, who had not heretofore been able to witness their performances. The entertainment is one to which no one need hesitate in taking ladies or children, as there is nothing of an objectionable nature in the entire program.

Henry Lee, the Chinaman who was convicted at the recent district court at White Sulphur Springs, of the murder of Sam Lee, a brother Celestial at Maiden, escaped a day or two ago from the jail at the Springs, and one Clark charged with horse stealing escaped at the same. Deputy Sheriff Kyes arrived yesterday afternoon in search of the fugitives. Lee was under sentence of death.

P. B. Winston and his brother were passengers on yesterday's east bound express. Mr. Winston was on his way to New York to attend the meeting of the Northern Pacific management which takes place the latter part of the week, at which it is said the location of the coal branch will be settled. Mr. Winston expressed himself as fully satisfied that Billings would be the point of departure, and said he had no doubt he and his men would be at work here in a short time.

At the Chicago stock yards on Sunday the supply of range cattle on the market was very limited. There were about three trains of Texans received direct from Kansas City by the clangerites. Some Northern Pacific cattle were on sale, and brought about the same price as on Saturday. The receipts generally were 8000 hogs, 3100 cattle and 300 sheep. Receipts for the week, $1,997 for hogs, 46,255 cattle, 12,947 sheep last week. During the corresponding week last year, receipts were 65,307 hogs, 40,954 cattle, 19,077 sheep. Receipts of cattle this week show the largest number on record, besides nearly 2,000 calves.

A meeting of the Literary Society was held yesterday evening in the Congregational church. There was a fair attendance and a considerable amount of business was disposed of. It was resolved to run the Society for all it was worth this Fall and Winter. The first regular meeting will be held next Wednesday evening. An excellent literary programme is in course of preparation for that evening. E. N. Harwood is preparing the necessary documents to complete the fusion of this Society and the Library association. Through the efforts of the Society, our citizens enjoyed a great many pleasant evenings last winter, and we have no doubt that many more are in store for them from the same source.

Knowing Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts to be of rare excellence, we have no hesitation in urging and hoping that every housekeeper in the land will make use of them, feeling satisfied that by so doing they will endorse their claims for purity, strength, quality and quantity.

A writer in the New York Sun gives his impressions, produced on him by a trip across the continent, via the Northern Pacific. In his communication, the following item of local interest occurs: Now we get, by rapid strides, to well-established communities, which date their origin ten or twelve months back, like Gladstone and Dickinson in Montana. Billings and Livingston in Montana. If built on the prairie, they look like toy villages arranged on a brownish yellow carpet. The prairie towns of Dakota have a more orderly and at the same time a less real appearance than the valley settlements of the neighboring territory. It seems indiscreet to leave them out at night on the wind-swept plain.

The first street is always parallel with the railroad track, extending each way from the station. The second street runs off at right angles, and if the growth of the town continues, it usually becomes in time the more important highway. Other streets are laid out right and left, shanties and brick buildings spring up side by side, and in a few months the real estate agent is prepared to exhibit a city map, plotted on a scale that would suit a place with 20,000 inhabitants, and to give you your choice of town lots at from $25 to $200 apiece. It is only about a year since the first house was erected in Billings. Now there are nearly 500 houses, and the population is well up to 2,500. If we have a brick church, a bank, several schools, three newspapers, six hotels, and a horse railroad. Satisfies of population, however, are of trifling value in towns that double their inhabitants in a few weeks or a few months.

The social and business development of the town generally follows this order: Saloons, stores in which the necessities of life are sold, gambling establishments, daily newspapers, school houses, a bank, a church, a wholesale store, a jail. For a time the saloons and the newspapers struggle for numerical supremacy. The appearance of the jail marks a distinct epoch in the crystallization of society.

Judging from the jail standard, Billings is all right, having a first-class one in course of construction.

While Baking Powders largely advertised as being absolutely pure are found to be enlivened by the presence of "Ammonia," and others betray "Alum," as an item of composition, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is and to be free from every trace of impurities or harmful ingredients. Dr. Price's Cream is the most perfect powder made.

It is reported that the Northern Pacific has refused to receive mails from the Utah Northern road at the intersection of the two roads, and that the mail agent has been obliged to contract for hauling them from the Junction to Geard's Ranch where the Northern Pacific has a station.
